The spread of COVID-19, social distancing, and school closures have disrupted our routines and sense of stability, forcing each of us to adapt to a new normal. CHC is devoted to providing you with resources as you find new ways for children and families to learn, feel safe, and be supported and connected. We have compiled this resource guide so that individuals know what resources are available to them amid this pandemic. As things progress, check back often for additional resources at www.thechc.org.

Dear Friends of the Center for Humanistic Change,

The Center for Humanistic Change is prepared to help support you and our community during the COVID-19 crisis.

Our primary concerns, like yours, are the safety, health, and well-being of our dedicated staff, contractors, and those with whom we engage. For this reason, we are suspending the delivery of programs on-site and instead will offer those programs remotely, using virtual platforms. We also offer this Resource Guide which will be updated on an 'as-needed basis."

We're able to do this thanks to the forward-thinking commitment and unfailing support of Lehigh and Northampton Counties, as well as other funders, who recognize the value of our services and who want to ensure that Lehigh Valley residents remain healthy emotionally, as well as physically.

Toward that end, we are offering selected courses to students, faculty, staff, and parents, remotely and at no cost to you. The courses, which are available to individuals or small groups, will be offered in 30-, 45, or 60-minute segments.

Our age-appropriate life skills instruction for children K-12 can help children stay engaged when schools are closed and learn ways of coping during these unusual times. Our courses for faculty, staff, and parents are designed to foster resiliency, reduce anxiety, and manage stress. Over time, based on the feedback received, we expect to offer more courses remotely.

Student offerings include:

- Building communication and coping skills
- Managing stress in unprecedented times
- Understanding and managing anger: warning signs and triggers
- Deciphering what is true in social media and the news
- Identifying personal values and risk factors regarding the use of drugs, alcohol, and vaping
- Current evidence-based programs such as Second Step, Too Good for Drugs, etc.

Faculty, staff, and parent offerings include:

- Managing emotions: techniques and resources to use during crisis situations
- Parenting through crisis: helping your child through these times
- Raising awareness about the trends in, and dangers of, social media
- Recognizing the signs of drug and alcohol use

To schedule a program, simply email preventioncoordinator@thechc.org or call 610-443-1595 to leave a voicemail message in the general mailbox. One of our prevention specialists or Student Assistance Program Liaisons will get back to you to discuss your needs and arrange a time to deliver the program to your students or members of your team. For single-session video options in English and Spanish, please click COVID-19 Online Resources and Programs. We will be posting them as they are recorded.

Please know that we're here to support you during these unprecedented times. Brighter days are coming. Until then, be safe.

Sincerely,

Arlene J. Lund Executive Director

The federal government extended a program to our district that will allow us to feed all children in the community under the age of 18 at no cost to students and their families. This program is for all children that would like to participate in school meals (breakfast and/or lunch) whether they are in the buildings, learning fully on-line, or in Bulldog Academy. The program is permitted to run until the end of 2020 or until the funding is no longer available through the federal government. We will offer families the opportunity to pick up meals as early as this Wednesday, September 16th, 2020 for when your child/children are not in the building. Due to the way we count meals, we will require students to take a complete meal. For example, they cannot just get milk. We will offer free meals (Breakfast & Lunch) to all students regardless of your free, reduced or full pay. There will be no cost to you. Go to the NLSD website. Under new announcements you will see a link to sign up for the Grab-n-Go meals. In that sign-up sheet we will ask you to identify if your child/children are fully on-line five days a week or on the hybrid model. All pickups will be on Wednesdays from 11:00 am - 12:30 pm. We will serve at the Middle School in the front of the building (if you participated anytime from March to August, it will be in the same location). Hybrid meals will include 3 breakfasts and 3 lunches and the on-line students will receive 5 breakfasts and 5 lunches. If you have any questions, please call 610-767-9811.

- Contact your own doctor if you are experiencing potential symptoms of COVID-19.
- ➤ Do NOT give out your Medicare number, Social Security number, bank account or other personal information in response to unsolicited calls, texts, or emails.
- ➤ Be suspicious of anyone going door-to door to offer free coronavirus or COVID-19 testing, supplies, or treatments. These are SCAMS.
- Carefully review your Medicare Summary Notice (MSN) or Explanation of Benefits (EOB), looking for errors or claims for products or services that weren't received.
- While the Center for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and other public health officials may contact you if they believe you may have been exposed to the virus, they will NOT need to ask you for insurance or financial information.
- The federal government will be mailing or direct-depositing economic impact payments for most Pennsylvanians. Do NOT provide any banking information to anyone who contacts you on the phone, through email or text messages, or on social media. Ignore solicitations that offer to get you this payment early or get you "more" money. Just hang up or delete the email. We also conduct presentations and activities on LGBTQ+ issues for clubs. We have also worked with community organizations and teachers to help them better provide LGBTQ+ inclusive services for their clients.

- PSLV staff: Our staff includes several Peer Mentors and Case Managers who provide daily groups and programming in our space as well as case management services. When possible we will also assist youth in transportation to and from appointments for HIV/STI care, transgender health care and more. A majority of our staff are LGBTQ+ ourselves, providing a unique space for youth to come and feel accepted.

Wolf Administration Reminds Pennsylvanians Experiencing Anxiety, Loneliness, Stress Amidst Holiday Season That They Are Not Alone

Harrisburg, PA – As the holidays are near, the Wolf Administration today shared resources for people struggling with anxiety, depression, loneliness, isolation, and other stressors. The holidays can be both a time of joy and a period of stress for people, depending on their circumstances. Mental well-being is an important part of everyone's overall good health and remains a priority for the administration amid the ongoing pandemic.

Mental Health

People who experience feelings of anxiety or depression may experience more distress during the holiday season than during non-holiday times. Given the challenges we are all currently facing, all Pennsylvanians should take extra care to be mindful of their mental health and tend to their overall health and wellness during this time. Check in with yourself, be honest about how you are feeling to yourself and your support network, and if you need someone to talk to or a little extra support, help is available.

"This year has challenged all of us in ways that we could not have anticipated, and whether you normally deal with feelings of depression or anxiety or you are experiencing these for the first time, your feelings are valid," said Department of Human Services (DHS) Secretary Teresa Miller. "The holiday season and our family traditions will look different this year because it's what we must do to keep each other safe, but there can be a grief that comes from that. No matter what you are feeling this year, please know that you do not have to endure it alone. Talk to your loved ones, talk to your support network, and don't be afraid to make a call to resources that exist to help."

DHS' mental health support & referral helpline, Persevere PA, is available 24/7 and is a free resource staffed by skilled and compassionate caseworkers available to counsel Pennsylvanians struggling with anxiety and other challenging emotions. The helpline caseworkers can refer callers to community-based resources that can further help to meet individual needs. Pennsylvanians can contact Persevere PA at 1-855-284-2494. For TTY, dial 724-631-5600.

If you or someone you love is in crisis, the National Suicide Prevention Lifeline is available by calling 1-800-273-8255. The hotline is staffed 24/7 by trained counselors who can offer free, confidential support. Spanish speakers who need immediate assistance can call 1-888-628-9454. Help can also be accessed through the Crisis Text Line by texting "PA" to 741-741.

The Office of Advocacy and Reform (OAR) was established as part of Governor Wolf's Reach Out PA initiative in July 2019. To date, OAR has established a plan to build a trauma-informed Pennsylvania by gathering a team of cutting-edge thinkers and practitioners in the field of trauma and how the brain heals from its effects to form a think tank. This volunteer group focused exclusively on setting guidelines and benchmarks for trauma-informed care across the commonwealth. Trauma-informed care needs to be included in the narrative about comprehensive mental wellness services and supports. OAR also hired the state's first Child Advocate whose role is to help protect the state's most vulnerable – another goal of the Reach Out PA initiative.

Substance Use Disorder

The holidays may also be difficult for individuals with a substance use disorder or people in recovery, especially if they become stressed by changes to their schedule or daily routine, are not able to see their support network in-person, have strained or non-existent relationships with family members, or are faced with potential triggers. According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, the most dangerous time of the year for substance use and alcohol-related deaths are around the holiday months.

"We understand how difficult it is not being together with our loved ones during the holidays. However, it is essential that we stop all gatherings, even small gatherings, to prevent the spread of COVID-19," said Ray Barishansky, deputy secretary for health preparedness and community protection at the Pennsylvania Department of Health. "We must not lose sight, however, of the opioid epidemic that still rages on in our communities. This is the time to enhance prevention and rescue strategies to be sure this trend does not continue. Together, we can all help each other."

The Department of Drug and Alcohol Programs also maintains a toll-free helpline that connects callers looking for treatment options for themselves or a loved one to resources in their community. You can reach the Get Help Now helpline at 1-800-662-HELP (4357). The helpline is available 24/7 – including on Thanksgiving Day. An anonymous chat service offering the same information to individuals who may not be comfortable speaking on the phone is also available at www.ddap.pa.gov.

Naloxone is still available to all Pennsylvanians through Secretary of Health Dr. Rachel Levine's standing order, and carrying this on-hand at all times can be a life-saving action. The Wolf Administration encourages all Pennsylvanians to take advantage of the standing order to obtain Naloxone over the holidays. Learn more about how to obtain naloxone at www.pa.gov/opioids.

Older Pennsylvanians

Because the risk of COVID-19 is more acute among older Pennsylvanians, we must be diligent about protecting our older loved ones from potential exposure to the virus. This distance undoubtedly creates difficulties, but regular communication can help families stay connected while they are not able to be together in person.

The Pennsylvania Department of Aging's Council on Aging (PCoA) recently released an interactive guide with information and resources to help older adults cultivate a healthy mind, body and spirit amidst the challenges of the COVID-19 pandemic. The guide, titled "SOLO: Strengthening Older Lives Online," was produced by PCoA's Risk Reduction Committee, which is made up of older adults and was formed in response to the council's State of Older Adults Report released in May 2020. The committee is an extension of the Social Isolation Task Force formed in 2019 to help mitigate social isolation among seniors.

"According to the Kaiser Family Foundation, from May to October of 2020, there was a 15 percent increase in the number of older adults who stated that their mental health has been negatively affected by COVID-19, with 25 percent of older adults stating that they feel anxiety or depression due to the pandemic," said PCoA Executive Director Faith Haeussler. "The PCoA's own survey of older adults during the pandemic told us they are looking for community connection and open to using more communication technology. SOLO was designed to empower older adults to address and manage the multiple stressors of COVID-19 affecting mental and physical well-being. The SOLO guide is a user-friendly self-empowering tool for older adults to access resources according to their own preferences and at their own pace."

The SOLO guide is designed to go beyond some of the physical safety reminders during the COVID-19 pandemic. Using bold, color graphics, the guide incorporates ways for aging adults to combat some of the pervasive stressors exacerbated by the pandemic while helping them live their best lives.

Tools available in the guide include:

Activities and videos to help stay mentally, spiritually, and physically fit;

Resources available to assist with those three areas; and,

Short questionnaires to build active health plans.

The interactive health and wellness guide is available in English here and in Spanish here.

Kinship Families

The Wolf Administration also wants grandparents and aunts, uncles, and cousins who are finding themselves caring for children who lost parents or whose parents are not able to be their primary caregiver to know that help is available via the KinConnector helpline. The helpline is staffed by Kinship Navigators – compassionate, knowledgeable social service professionals prepared to help families locate, understand, and access resources that may be able to help them during the holiday season. It can be reached by calling 1-866-KIN-2111 (1-866-546-2111) or online at www.kinconnector.org.
